

FAFSA CHECKLIST

You must complete the FAFSA every year you attend college to qualify for most federal and state financial aid and some college-based financial aid. Requested information may change from year to year. Be aware of the different national, state, and college financial aid deadlines for completing the FAFSA. If you are an independent student, you will only need to provide personal information for yourself and, if married, your spouse. If you are considered a dependent student, you will need to provide information for yourself and your legal parent(s).

Are you independent or dependent? If you answer “yes” to any of the questions below, you may be considered an independent student:

- Y N Are you 24 years old or older?
- Y N Are you married as of the day you file your FAFSA?
- Y N Will you be working on a master’s degree or doctoral degree at the beginning of the next school year?
- Y N Are you a veteran or active duty member of the U.S. Armed Forces?
- Y N Do you have children who will be receiving more than half of their support from you during the next school year?
- Y N Do you have any dependents (other than a child or spouse) who live with you and who receive more than half of their support from you now and through June of next year?
- Y N At any time since you turned age 13, were both your parents deceased, were you in foster care, or were you a dependent or ward of the court?
- Y N Have you been declared an emancipated minor by a court in the state where you have your legal residence?
- Y N Have you been placed in legal guardianship by a court in the state where you have your legal residence?
- Y N Has your school district homeless liaison, the director of a runaway or homeless youth center, or the director of a transitional program determined that you were an unaccompanied youth who was homeless or were self-supporting and at risk of being homeless?*
